TULISA IN NEW SEX TAPE HELL

POP queen Tulisa Contostavlos was furious last night to discover that a banned sex tape of her is still being touted online.

The shock discovery has led the former X Factor judge to consult lawyers in an attempt to get the raunchy video removed permanently from the web. One pal said: "She's determined to put this behind her once and for all."

Four serious in rollercoaster horror smash

FOUR people have been seriously injured in a collision between two carriages on Alton Towers amusement park's Smiler ride.

The accident happened just after 2pm yesterday, and involved two carriages – one containing 16 passengers and the other empty – which collided on a low part of the rollercoaster.

A West Midlands Ambulance Service spokeswoman said: "There are 16 patients on board The Smiler requiring triage, four of which have reported serious injuries."

"Ambulance staff and medics are working quickly with resort staff to gain access to the seriously injured."

Visitors to Alton Towers reported on social media that the ride had broken down earlier in the day.

One witness tweeted: "People unconscious, knocked out. Blood everywhere."

MPs set for 10% pay rise

MPs are set for a 10% pay rise – to £74,000 – after David Cameron said he will not block the watchdog that sets their salaries.

Downing Street said although the Prime Minister still opposed the backdated increase, it was a matter for the Independent Parliamentary Standards (Ipsa).

Unless "new and compelling evidence" emerges by the end of the month, the move will be confirmed.

A spokesman from the TaxPayers' Alliance said: "Ipsa spent £70,000 on a consultation which showed the public think the current pay level to be broadly fair, yet have ignored the findings."

Life's a beach for TOWIE Dani

REALITY star Danielle Armstrong was out displaying her sun-kissed curves on the beach in Marbella yesterday.

The 27-year-old is currently filming the new series of ITV's The Only Way Is Essex in the swanky Spanish resort.

Dishy Dani wore a skimpy pink bikini as she bent down to reveal her surgically-enhanced assets to thrilled onlookers.

One lucky holidaymaker said: "The Essex girls are back in Marbella – and Danielle is looking hotter than the weather!"

LIB DEM KENNEDY IS DEAD AGED 55

By NEIL GOODWIN neil@sundaysport.co.uk

WARM tributes have poured in from across the political spectrum to former Liberal Democrat leader Charles Kennedy, whose death at the age of 55 shocked Westminster.

Mr Kennedy had served as an MP for 32 years, but was ousted from his Ross, Skye and Lochaber constituency in the general election.

Former Lib Dem leader Nick Clegg said his death "robs Britain of one of the most gifted politicians of his generation".

Prime Minister David Cameron said he was "deeply saddened" by the loss of a man he described as "a talented politician who has died too young".

Police were called to Mr Kennedy's home in Fort William on Monday.

It is understood that his body was found in the house by a friend. The cause of his death is not yet known, but it is not thought by police to be suspicious.

Mr Kennedy's political career began in the Social Democratic Party, winning the Ross, Cromarty and Skye seat in 1983 to become the youngest MP of the time at the age of 23.

Treatment

His leadership of the Lib Dems from 1999-2006 was marked by his staunch opposition to the war in Iraq, which helped the party achieve its greatest electoral success, winning 62 seats in 2005.

But just months later, Mr Kennedy's leadership was brought to an abrupt end when he dramatically admitted receiving treatment for an alcohol problem.

Mr Kennedy was divorced in 2010 from wife Sarah, with whom he has a 10-year-old son, Donald.

Mr Clegg added: "In my view, Charles Kennedy on form, on a good day when he was feeling strong and happy, had more political talent in his little finger than the rest of us put together."

Former Lib Dem peer Lord Oakeshott said: "If he had not had a drink problem, he would be the leader of the Liberal Democrats today."

"It was drink that got him. Terribly, terribly sad."

SNP leader and Scotland's First Minister Nicola Sturgeon said: "Charles devoted his life to serving Scotland and his beloved Highlands."

"His passion for making our country a better place to live is his lasting legacy."

Alastair Campbell, former Labour director of communications, said: "We were all a bit worried about Charles after the election."

STURGEON WARNS OF EU EXIT ANGER

A VOTE to take the UK out of the European Union (EU) could result in a "clamour" for another referendum on Scottish independence, according to Nicola Sturgeon.

She said that if Scotland was taken out of the EU against its will in the in/out referendum on membership it would create a "groundswell of anger".

She used her first Brussels speech as First Minister to renew calls for a "double majority" to ensure that all four UK nations back withdrawal from the EU before it can take place.

The SNP leader said: "I previously stated my view that if Scotland were to be taken out of Europe despite voting as a nation to have remained, it would provoke a strong backlash amongst many voters."

"Quite what the result of that would be, no-one can perceive, but I've stated before that this could be one scenario producing the kind of material change in circumstances that would precipitate popular demand for a second independence referendum."

"Bluntly, I believe that the groundswell of anger amongst many ordinary people in Scotland under these circumstances could produce a clamour for another independence referendum that may well be unstoppable."

The blonde (above) was a topless glamour model before she found fame on ITV's The Only Way Is Essex.

But now Sam, 24, is anxious her trademark 32DD curves are deserting her.

She moaned: "When I was 18 my boobs were quite big. But as I've got older, they've got smaller and I think, 'How did THAT happen!'"

"As I got into my training and lost weight, they've gone down, but I'm not fussed because now my boobs suit my figure."

Swimwear designer Sam says she's still proud to air her body. She added: "I do love a good bikini. I like a triangle top with a tie-side bottom so you can adjust them."

"My boobs aren't massive so a triangle gives you a nice little push-up."

200 complain about BGT dog swap

OFCOM is looking into more than 200 complaints about Britain's Got Talent following the revelation that champion Jules O'Dwyer used a stunt dog for her winning performance.

The show's producers have apologised for not making it clearer to viewers - as well as the judges - that a second dog walked a tightrope. Now angry fans have complained to Ofcom, which will decide whether or not to investigate the dog swap on Sunday night's final.

A spokesman said: "Ofcom has received 206 complaints about the winning act."

"We will assess these complaints before deciding whether to investigate or not."

Last night O'Dwyer said that she was "shocked and surprised" by viewers' reactions, claiming the only reason she hadn't used Matisse was because he didn't like heights.

Judge Geordie Vicky's sex party secret!

And the 27-year-old says the show even took her to a high class ORGY!

She explained: "The most outrageous situation I came across involved a sex party!

"A guy was supposedly in love with a girl. He was so sweet and nice and romantic to her that he seemed perfect.

Vicky has also urged women to DUMP their boyfriend if they go to a strip club.

She moaned: "If you've got me at home, what you doing going out? You'd get sacked off!"

Kellie: My voice gives me away!

SEX-OP he-she Kellie Maloney says she's getting a new VOICE... because everyone still 'mistakes' her for a BLOKE when she's on the phone!

The babe - aka former boxing promoter Frank - has undergone gender reassignment surgery to get a fully functioning mingie.

But there's still one aspect of her body she's not happy with, and that's her deep growl.

The 61-year-old Celebrity Big Brother star said: "The final piece in the jigsaw is there but the only thing I'm concerned about is my voice.

"I have voice coaching but I'm often mistaken for a male on the phone, which is a bit upsetting."

Meanwhile Kellie says she's not interested in SEX.

She added: "I'd say at this moment I have no interest in males or females.

"It may change in six months' time but even before that, I'd have to make sure there's trust."

He reportedly refused to eat anything other than fruits and snacks while he was inside, and after being visited by dozens of doctors, was finally declared "incompatible" with detention and any transfer to a psychiatric ward.

Reports show a life of crime had led him to develop an aversion to men in uniforms and bars, which caused him to become depressed.

A judge in Milan, Italy, has allowed him to move back to a property under house arrest so he can get better.

FLOWER POWER: Kelly and Natalie

KELLY BROOK & ROOMIE NAT... JUST BOOB FRIENDS!

BUSTY model Kelly Brook has laughed-off suggestions that she's turned LESBIAN with her stunning brunette housemate.

But you couldn't blame the Brit star if she DID fancy a little girl-girl action with actress and pin-up Natalie Loren, judging by these eye-popping pics! Curvy Kelly, 35, and Liverpool-born Natalie, 34, are currently sharing a pad together in Los Angeles, US.

Top-heavy Kelly recently starred in sit-com One Big Happy, while aspiring thesp Natalie has appeared in TV's Entourage as well as a video for rock band 30 Seconds To Mars.

And we can also reveal how Natalie, a pert 34B, posed absolutely STARKERS for Playboy three years ago!

Kelly recently said of her best bosom buddy: "Everyone thinks I'm a lesbian with Natalie. Erm...no way!"

She revealed: "I do what I do because I want to. Maybe someone's good in bed, or a good cook, or we do something fun together."

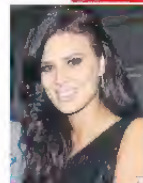

The only thing she DOES do with members of the same sex is go to the gym!

Kelly added: "I only train with girls."

"I never work with males, I only like working with women."

Twinnie: Bike crash drove me to acting

HOLLYOAKS babe Twinnie Lee Moore has told how she cheated death in a horror MOTORBIKE accident.

The brunette, who plays Porsche McQueen in the Channel 4 soap, snapped her leg in the two-wheeled prang which meant she couldn't walk for four months.

The carriage, which took place three years ago, also meant she had to cut short her career as a dancer.

The 28-year-old, who was riding pillion with then boyfriend Max Milner, said: "I was a professional dancer in the West End but I had a motorbike accident and haven't danced since."

"My leg's fully healed but it's one of those things that will never be the same again."

"When you break a bone you can feel it when the cold comes."

"But I still like my legs. I get quite a lot of compliments about them - even though they're scared to death."

Twinnie's boobs are pretty great, too - as seen in 2014 flick Ironclad: Battle for Blood.

SHOCKED railway workers have found the dead body of a DWARF pensioner locked in a suitcase and dumped a month ago.

Japanese police are trying to identify the woman's corpse found inside a locker at the busy JR Tokyo station.

The grisly discovery was made by a male employee working on the coin-operated lockers.

A spokesperson said: "There was an abnormal odour and he saw hair."

The dead dwarf is believed to be 4ft 7in tall and she was found curled up inside a bright yellow two-foot long bag.

Authorities believe she was aged between 70 and 80-years-old.

There were no signs of injury but the body was badly decomposed after being left in April.

Around 3,000 trains pass through the station every day.

KISS BLISS: Allison's shocker for James

CHUBBY telly star James Corden was left gasping after a sizzling on-air clinch with TOPLESS cougar Allison Janney.

The Late Late Show host was dishing out the gong for Best Supporting Comedy Actress at the Critics' Choice Television Awards on Sunday night.

But after announcing that Allison had won for her role as Bonnie Plunkett in CBS sitcom Mom, he got more than expected...

Because the 55-year-old American actress passionately kissed James on LIVE TV – a tribute to Madonna's awkward smooch with rapper Drake back in April.

James, whose U.S. programme was nominated for Best Talk Show, looked like his BALLS were about to EXPLODE!

That's probably because the 38-year-old comedian was thinking about Allison's incredible TOPLESS scenes in Channel 4's Masters of Sex!

She also went NAKED in black comedy Life During Wartime back in 2009.

A showbiz source said: "Allison's got cracking boobs. I wouldn't be surprised if James spunked his pants there and then."

In a SHOCK twist, four housemates were replaced under the programme's new Timebomb rules last week. And one of the newcomers is fetish model Harry Amelia - who openly admits performing TABOO sex acts for CASH. And just a few days after entering the Big Bro house, the 22-year-old was flashing the lot to the delight of hundreds of male viewers of the Channel 5 show!

Harry - a self-proclaimed "dominatrix brat" from Loughborough - went fully TOPLESS in the bedroom in front of her stunned new housemates.

but I would have a fumble!" Despite claiming she NEVER watched the show before signing up, Harry reckons she's got the potential to be this year's winner.

She said: "I'd like to think I can do it. Either everyone will hate me or love me - they should, because I'm awesome!" "I'll be wearing LOTS of latex, PVC and bikinis. I don't like clothes!" "And I hate pyjamas. You've been wearing clothes all day - why the hell would you want to wear clothes in bed? It's disgusting."

"The others probably won't be happy with me walking around naked... but I don't care."

"They'll call me a 'slag', but I'll be like, 'Am I bovvered?'"

Harry, who is also bisexual, told housemates she enjoys her fetish and financial domination work but says it doesn't affect her personal life.

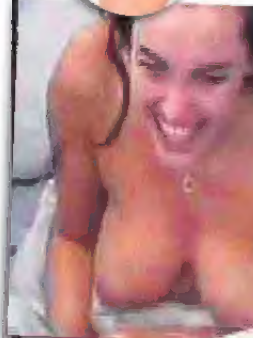

She said: "My job is about fetish and other people's needs."

Kinky

Harry, who has also appeared on adult channel Babestation, wore an S&M-inspired dress when she entered the house in Herts on Friday night.

She told the other contestants: "I am a bit kinky, a bit loud and flirty. I will be slightly controversial."

Lib Dems acted like Charlies!

THE world of politics has lost a very nice man with the sad death of Charles Kennedy.

Our views were miles apart but what everyone else has been saying was absolutely true – he really was one of the good guys.

His drink problem saw him chucked out as Liberal Democrat leader in 2006 – despite having gained the party a record six million votes a year earlier and 62 MPs.

Now down to just 2.5 million votes and only eight seats, the Lib Dems must surely rue the day they stabbed their best ever leader in the front.

STRAIGHT TALKING FROM UKIP'S DEPUTY LEADER

Luvvies missing point of Human Rights Act

ALMOST inevitably, the luvvies are out in force sticking up for the Human Rights Act.

All the usual suspects are there – Sherlock star Benedict Cumberbatch, Simon Callow from Four Weddings and a Funeral and Vanessa Redgrave.

They're appearing in a number of short films for the campaign group Liberty to big up an act that actually hasn't been around very long and which for all its perceived merits, has some glaring flaws, too.

Tears

Of course, because the words "human rights" are in there it becomes an emotive subject, and luvvies are often known as being able to burst into tears on tap.

However, what they wilfully ignore is that "human rights" did not suddenly begin to exist in 1998 when Tony Blair signed us up to the European Convention of Human Rights.

That's right, good old, cuddly Tony – the man who took us into an illegal war in Iraq.

I happen to agree with the Government's plan to repeal the Human Rights Act and introduce a British Bill of Rights instead. This would allow the UK to ignore verdicts by Euro judges and give our own Supreme Court the final say.

It would also mean it would be far easier to throw out foreigners convicted of serious crimes.

So it's not a plan to abolish "human rights" as the luvvies are contending.

It's actually a desire to bolster the rights of British citizens – and afford them proper protection, too.

The luvvies conveniently forget cases like that of asylum seeker William Danga, 40, who was jailed for 10 years for raping a 16-year-old girl.

After his release from jail he fought deportation to stay in Britain by using the Human Rights Act on the grounds he had two children.

During that battle to stay here after his release from prison, however, he raped and molested two young girls and is now serving a 15-year sentence.

Or look at Serb Milan Sarcevic, who was accused of being involved in the 1991 Vukovar massacre of up to 300 Croat men and women.

The victims had been beaten, executed and buried in a mass grave. A judge ruled evidence of his involvement was "not conclusive" and under the Human Rights Act did not warrant bracing his "family life".

Now the 62-year-old lives on a council estate in south east London. But what about the human rights of his alleged victims?

What about the human rights of his neighbours on that London estate?

Flaws

The luvvies are acting as though the Human Rights Act is like Magna Carta, or as if it was brought down Mount Sinai by Moses.

It isn't, and it wasn't. It's just yet another piece of legislation that quite clearly has flaws.

And because we can't change it we need to opt out of it and have a new piece of legislation.

David Cameron chickened out of including it in the Queen's Speech but he'd have gone up in my estimation if he had done.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

We should not rewrite history... or her story

BIG Brother was once known not as a TV vehicle for fame wannabes but as the ominous baddie in a brilliant bit of writing by George Orwell.

The author painted a bleak vision of a future where we were all constantly under surveillance and paranoid because of it.

You couldn't step out of line, and most certainly could never say whatever you wanted to.

And there was a Ministry of Information that employed people to constantly keep rewriting history to suit the dictatorial government's needs.

The sinister goal of this was ultimately to persuade people that 2 + 2 = 5, achieving the impossible of convincing them to believe that the untrue is actually true.

That book was called 1984. And as you're no doubt aware, most of what you've just read has pretty much become true. Now, you might also have read just about everywhere, that minus-Z list celebrity Bruce Jenner has begun a "journey" of transformation from a man to a woman.

That's fair enough. Whether it's gender identity, sexuality, or simply lifestyle choice, people should always, always live however they want as long as they're not hurting anyone else.

But now we're being asked to pretend that Jenner, a biological father of six and stepfather to four more, has always, from birth, been a woman.

There's even a campaign group in the US that is issuing media "rules" on what reporters can and cannot say about Bruce – who is now Caitlyn.

We're told – not asked – to never again refer to Caitlyn "by her former name" and to "avoid using male pronouns and Caitlyn's prior name, even when referring to events in her past".

What? That's going to be difficult when sports broadcasters make shows about past events like the summer Olympics in Montreal in 1976.

There, a young athlete by the name of Bruce Jenner won the gold medal in the men's decathlon.

Are we to now say a woman won that event?

Or should the medal now be rescinded because – as a woman since birth – Jenner was technically not eligible to take part?

Should all newspaper reports, TV recordings and history books now be altered to suit what has happened today instead of what happened yesterday?

And while we're at it, as the former stepfather of the infamous Kardashian clan, does every single celebrity story ever written about them now need to be erased?

You'd be heartless not to offer good wishes to Caitlyn as she embarks on such a new direction in life.

But don't tell us how to bloody think. And don't dare rewrite history.

We're not quite living the entire Big Brother scenario yet – even if Twitter IS full of lunatics screaming that 2 + 2 = 5.

'Fishnet stockings & explicit song don't mean I want sex'

ON TRIAL: Layfield taught the woman at Chetham's School of Music (below right)

BBC journo gives Brand a spanking

TOP BBC political journalist Nick Robinson has labelled Russell Brand (above) a "f---ing sanctimonious twat".

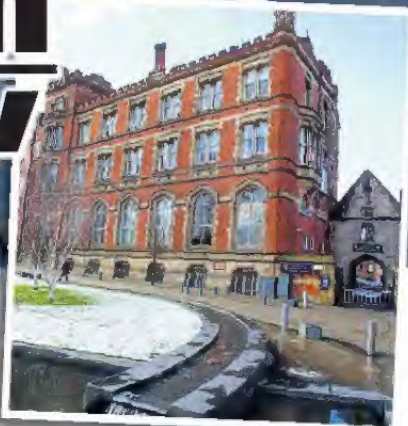

Heavyweight Nick tried to interview comic Brand - who was urging people NOT to vote - in the run-up to May's General Election.

But Nick, writing in his new memoir, Election Notebook: The Inside Story of the Battle Over Britain's Future and My Personal Battle to Report It, says: "After Question Time, Russell is driven by his chauffeur with his PR and his personal make-up artist to his multi-million pound apartment."

"I point out that the Labour guest on the panel, Mary Creagh, will take the train, then cycle home before heading to her Wakefield constituency to hold surgery the next day."

"I find myself cursing Brand as 'that f---ing sanctimonious twat'."

"I'm not sure this complies with BBC editorial standards, but it's better out than in."

SINGING a "suggestive song" wearing fishnet stockings in front of her violin teacher was not "an invitation to rape", a woman has told a jury.

Malcolm Layfield, 63, is said to have used his "power and influence" to rape the then 18-year-old student in the back of his car during a trip to Cornwall in the early 1980s.

Giving evidence today, his accuser denied she willingly had sex in the vehicle with the defendant, who taught her at Chetham's School of Music and the Royal Northern College of Music, both in Manchester.

Earlier on the night of the alleged rape she agreed she performed a song called The Masochism Tango, wearing fishnet stockings and a black dress as part of a cabaret.

Benjamin Myers QC, representing Layfield, said to the complainant: "You put yourself centre stage in a highly sexualised song directed straight at Mr Layfield?"

Raunchy

The woman, who cannot be named for legal reasons, replied: "Mr Layfield said, 'I want you to do a cabaret and I want you to sing'."

She denied trying to impress him and said she could have chosen "a raunchy song" such as Bey Big Spender.

Mr Myers read to the jury at Manchester Crown Court the opening lyrics of The Masochism Tango by Tom Lehrer, which he claimed were

ALLEGED VICTIM 'DRESSED UP FOR MAN ACCUSED OF ATTACKING HER'

By KIM PILLING

news@sundaysport.co.uk

"quite suggestive". The song goes: "I ache for the touch of your lips dear, but much more for the touch of your whips dear. You can raise welts like nobody else, as we dance to the Masochism Tango."

The complainant replied: "It doesn't matter what people sing or choose to wear. This is not an invitation to rape."

Layfield, of Castle Quay, Castlefield, Manchester, denies rape.

Mr Myers admitted his client pursued a series of relationships with students and it was accepted by him that this was "inappropriate".

Mr Myers put it to the complainant that by the time of the Cornwall trip she had a reputation for getting involved with students and that he was developing an interest in her. He said: "You knew he was turning his attention towards you and you were prepared to cultivate that?"

The woman replied: "No." The jury has heard that Layfield was said to have provided "strong alcoholic punch" on the final night of the course, staged by himself and his wife.

His alleged victim said she got into her sleeping bag upstairs, but he told her to get up.

Influential

She remembered getting into his car "in the middle of the night" and driving to a beach but could not recall how she got there.

Mr Myers suggested that her move to the sleeping bag was "calculated" so he would come and get her.

The barrister said: "Why not say 'I'm staying in bed'?"

The witness laughed and said: "I wish I had. It's very hard to refuse something from someone who is extremely influential."

Mr Myers said the fact she kept on her cabaret outfit meant she did not intend to stay in bed.

She replied: "No, I was trying to get away. All I can remember is him telling me to get into his car. I was just doing what I was told."

Mr Myers said: "This is what you're saying now as you don't want to take responsibility for what you did."

"No," the witness said. She said no violence or threats were used to get her in the back of the vehicle, but she was "intimidated by his strength".

The woman said: "Looking back, you feel you were taken advantage of?"

The woman said: "Taken advantage of? It's a bit weak isn't it? I didn't want anything sexual to happen."

She said she did not make a complaint at the time because she convinced herself it was an affair and later went on to have consensual sex with him over a six-week period.

She said: "I twisted it in my mind to protect him, his wife. I ended up fooling myself."

The trial continues.

GORGEOUS Jodie Gasson has revealed her ultimate sex fantasy – to romp with Prince Harry! The Brighton babe, 24, admits she's got a "secret crush" on the Royal redhead and would love to get her hands on his Crown Jewels! Jodie, who boasts a 30F top rack, said: "I love Prince Harry, he's such a hunk. I definitely want to shag him!" "And it's not just because he's a Royal. "In fact, it would be better if he wasn't. He's just really good looking. "Imagine if we'd hooked up and he took me home to meet Prince Charles! "That would be even more amazing!"

Star Eddie is main man for Harry Potter flick

OSCAR-winner Eddie Redmayne is to star in the Harry Potter spin-off film Fantastic Beasts And Where To Find Them.

The Theory Of Everything actor won the battle with fellow Brit Benedict Cumberbatch to play magizoologist and textbook author Newt Scamander in Warner Bros' big-screen adaptation of JK Rowling's book.

David Yates, who directed the last four Harry Potter films, will take the reins on Fantastic Beasts, which is set decades before Harry's story.

Yates said "Eddie is a fearless actor, brimming with invention, wit and humanity."

"I couldn't be more excited about the prospect of working with him."

Redmayne's character Scamander documents a myriad of magical creatures for the 42-page Hogwarts School textbook.

Rowling will make her screenwriting debut on the film, which will be co-produced by her lifelong Harry Potter collaborator David Heyman.

Fantastic Beasts is scheduled for release on November 18, 2016.

Two days before the 15th anniversary of Rowling's first Harry Potter book.

42 minutes stuck below water – but miracle boy lives!

DOCTORS are baffled after a 14-year-old boy survived after being trapped underwater for 42 MINUTES.

The teenager, who has been identified only as Michael, jumped off a bridge in Cuggiono, near Milan, with five friends into just 6.5 FEET of water.

While at the bottom of the murky canal, Michael's heart stopped and he was presumed dead.

But after almost an hour it was restarted with a defibrillator and the boy spent a month recovering in hospital.

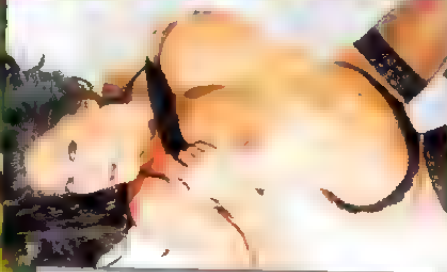

Dr Alberto Zangrillo said Michael's survival was "the greatest satisfaction of my entire professional career".

Michael's leg had to be amputated below the knee due to circulation problems, but he has not suffered any brain damage and is "alert".

Dr Zangrillo added: "The other day he asked us for a mojito."

CASEY BATCHELOR ...MY LESBO LUST!

GIRL POWER: Casey isn't ruling out a fling with another woman

CBS star Casey Batchelor has left fans open-mouthed by admitting she flirted with being a LESBIAN!

The 29-year-old model, who previously dated Mysterious Girl singer Peter Andre, confessed she "wouldn't rule out" dating another woman.

And she also warned blokes about the perils of having a threesome, saying their girlfriends "might like it too much".

Casey, 32G, from Essex, said: "I don't know why some people are so scared of the word 'lesbian' – it's ridiculous."

"I know someone who is female and straight, but just one time she developed feelings for another woman."

"Does that mean she's bisexual? Probably not, it just means she had a connection."

"Of course, most men probably love it – the idea of girl-on-girl action is the ultimate fantasy."

Experiment

"Many of them dream of having a threesome with two girls. Maybe we should all experiment more."

"Don't knock same sex fun until you've tried it."

"I'm sure the straight guys are saying, 'Why don't you ladies try it with your best mate then?'"

"All I'd say is, careful what you wish for – your lady might like it a bit too much."

"The male vision of lesbians comes from Hollywood movies and top-shelf magazines."

"Sorry fellas, but two horny blondes going at it in the locker room is not how gay people spend their day."

"I love going to gay bars as I don't have to worry about guys trying it on – but also because no one gives a shit."

"Everyone is having fun and there is no pretentiousness at all."

"I haven't personally been with a woman but if I met a girl one day that I did feel a connection with, well I wouldn't rule it out."

SHE'S BRITAIN'S ONLY TOPLESS COLUMNIST

SORRY to rub it in if you're in the cold and rain today, but I'm in mummy Marbella having a ball.

Wait a minute, who am I kidding - I'm not sorry at all... I love it here!!

I bought this six-bed luxury villa several years ago when I lived in Spain full-time. It's got its own gym and swimming pool, so it's great to get over here regularly and make the most of it.

After I got here on Monday I stumbled across something interesting... my old collection of bras!

Cheeky

The last time I lived here was before my breast reduction - so you can imagine how BIG they all are.

But since then, my boobs haven't stopped GROWING! I've actually gone up FIVE cup sizes to a 32H.

So when I was sorting through old clothes, I was shocked to discover my old bra actually fit me again!

And in case you boys are wondering, I took a cheeky snap to show you the girl's progress - en-oy!

But this is a working holiday for me, because I will be shooting my 2016 calendar next Monday.

So my loyal readers can expect a sneak preview of my TOPLESS photoshoot in next week's paper.

● THE Only Way Is Essex crowd were filming down the road from me in Marbella town when I arrived here.

They might only be reality TV stars, but they're still pulling in the crowds over here.

And it wasn't long before the fans had something to gossip about.

James 'Arg' Argent got in trouble with his on-off girlfriend Lydia Bright because he's drinking again following a stint in rehab.

And I also saw him stuffing his face at a local restaurant - despite boasting of his recent weight loss.

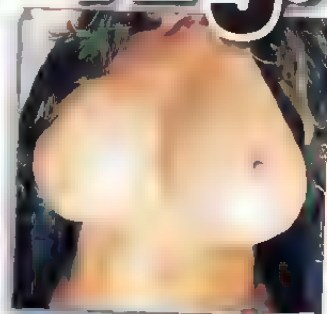

People in Marbella don't miss anything! If they spot a celebrity behaving badly, the British press will soon hear about it.

I feel a bit sorry for them all though - they won't be able to relax like me.

I can come to Spain and not worry about photographers following my every move.

But I guess that's the price of fame!

Big tits...and Arg!

BIG TITS: Mine... plus Arg!

IT'S official, folks... Love Island is BACK!

It's one of my favourite shows from back in the day. I remember when Calum Best was in the first series during his playboy years.

Apparently, they're throwing in lots of sexy girls to rival MTV's Ex On The Beach.

And I was delighted to find out that Midweek Sport babe Hannah Elizabeth is one of the contestants this series!

I'll definitely be cheering her on - and so should you! She's absolutely gorgeous.

I really like her Marilyn Monroe-inspired look. It's sexy and classy.

She's a real blonde bombshell!

They've got a couple of famous contestants too - including David McIntosh's ex-girlfriend Rachel Christie.

Hopefully, it will be better than this year's Big Brother... it's so fking boring!

Fetish

I've said for ages that Channel 5 should scrap it and stick to Celebrity Big Brother.

It's a LOT better. The fact is, nobody is interested in people they haven't heard of.

I know that the producers brought in fetish model Harry Amelia to spice things up last week, but it's already too late.

They need to have fun, sexy housemates from the first episode, otherwise viewers will lose interest.

So let's hope Love Island starts off with a BANG this week!

FORMER Olympian Bruce Jenner is now officially a WOMAN - and I'm so proud of her.

The Keeping Up With The Kardashians star is now called Caitlyn.

Already she's a cover girl with a glam photoshoot for the latest Vanity Fair mag.

Lots of friends and celebrities offered support on Twitter - but I've been left disappointed by the response of his ex-wife Kris Jenner.

After their separation last year, she started going to clubs and hooking up with random - and much younger - guys. It was just tasteless.

It looked like Kris was trying to distract attention from Caitlyn's announcement.

Remember, it's not always about you, Kris!

Caitlyn recently claimed she's a LESBIAN and still prefers women. So he was clearly attracted to her physically.

But I've always suspected that Kris knew all along. How could she not?

Caitlyn recently joined Twitter and broke records for gaining over ONE MILLION followers in just four hours. Good for her!

And her magazine photoshoot by Anna Leibovitz is just beautiful. She's quite airbrushed but still looks amazing.

The way things are going, Caitlyn could end up bigger than Kim Kardashian!

HERE'S a turn-up for the books... Sam-Cam has a smokin' hot body! Prime Minister David Cameron's wife was recently snapped on holiday in a bikini - and she looks bloody fantastic!

Seriously, her body is incredible for a 44-year-old woman. She's not stick thin, she just looks fit. And I really respect that.

I'm a bit jealous!

You can't have a body like that unless you hit the gym regularly. I think she's setting a great example.

Lots of people claim that exercising every day "takes up too much time". Here's a newsflash... IT DOESN'T.

It takes no more than one hour of daily exercise to stay fit and healthy.

And plenty of people - including Samantha Cameron - manage to do it, despite leading very busy lives. Good on ya, Sam-Cam!

Susanna:
I'm no flirt,
I'm a pro!

SUSANNA REID says she's frustrated at being labelled a FLIRT. The Good Morning Britain presenter, 44, has been accused of flirting with David Beckham, Arctic Monkeys frontman Alex Turner, former Downton Abbey actor Dan Stevens – and even David Cameron during interviews.

But sexy Susanna told Good Housekeeping magazine: "Wearing a dress and chewing a pen is interpreted as something else."

"It's frustrating. I'm a professional interviewer whose job it is to get the absolute best out of people. To then have it described in a different way you think, 'Come on, really?'"

Reid said she doesn't choose her revealing outfits and people are wrong to focus on them.

She added: "It's a little bit reductionist to box it down to wearing a dress. I don't choose them."

"You have to accept a certain level of scrutiny but does it frustrate me a bit sometimes? Of course it does."

SHE'S not just Simon Cowell's saucy sidekick – sexy Sinitta is a BONER fide star in her own right!

The sultry brunette turned a few heads earlier this week when she accidentally flashed her KNICKERS underneath a white dress outside London's Café De Paris club.

And the babe, who turned 51 last October, has never been shy about airing her all natural curves.

The American born singer – a close ally of The X Factor's Cowell – shot to fame in the 80s with tracks like So Macho and Right Back Where We Started From.

Gusset

It wasn't long before she displayed her own smash hits, posing topless for 1986 slick Foreign Bodies before laying down NUDE for a magazine spread.

In the years that followed, she went out of her way to wear barely-there outfits which showed off her gusset and boobs.

Meanwhile Sinitta, who once dated Brad Pitt and is now shackled up with publicist Jason Gale, has hinted she's still a little minx between the sheets. She admitted recently: "My boyfriend is so happy that I had a pole installed in the house. We did a little bit of it the other day."

"When I performed for him, he was just beaming!"

at vid shoot

A VIDEO shoot for rapper Busta Rhymes ended in mass arrests after five actors were taken down for drugs and gun offenses. The h.p. hop star (above) was filming with fellow rappers French Montana and Ju Rule in Brooklyn, US, when cops swooped. A plainclothes officer walked onto the set behind a supermarket and spotted the illegal cache of firearms.

Ponet said cocaine, marijuana and "molly" - which is slang for ecstasy or MDMA - were also found.

was arrested and seen passing a Derringer pistol to his girlfriend Ebonye Eastmond, 27. The NYPD said Edward Elkins was also nicked when a semiautomatic pistol was found in a bag at his apartment.

A second woman, Wendy Miranda 30 was also arrested.

Mila warned:
Your stalker is on the loose!

TERRIFIED actress Mila Kunis will be freestating after a crazed fan who broke into her home ESCAPED from a mental health facility.

Stalker Stuart Lynne Dunn 30 was locked up two years ago at the Olive Vista Behavioral Health Center in Pomona, California, after pleading no contest to a felony count of stalking the actress.

He'd broken into the Friends star's West Hollywood condo and lived there for THREE WEEKS before being nabbed.

He also camped outside her gym for three days.

Dunn was eventually handed a six-month stint in a rehab centre and a 10-year restraining order to keep him away from the 31-year-old.

But he's now done a runner sparking a major police manhunt.

Cops said Kunis, who has a seven-month-old baby with actor Ashton Kutcher, has been told about his escape.

ROMP

Is this the hottest movie of the year?

THERE'S good news and bad news when it comes to saucy new movie Mantervention.

On the PLUS side, it's a bare boobs and arse bonanza as a string of Hollywood's hottest women strip off for X rated SEX scenes

But unfortunately it's NOT in glorious 3D! The comedy directed by Stuart Acher sees a bloke left heartbroken after being dumped by a lass

Thankfully, his best pal is there to help, organising a summer of SHAGGING to help him get over his relationship woes

Actress Natalie Morris, 25, is seen squeezing into see-through pink undies to seduce the jammy fella, while Jenny McClain

By NEIL GOODWIN neil@sundaysport.co.uk

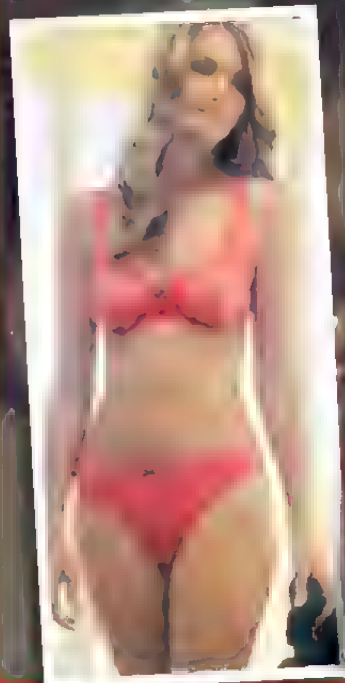

28, straddles our man with her beautiful breasts on full view

Other scenes see brunette Claudia Salinas, 31, unzipping her frock to reveal her stonking all natural curves - while red-hot blonde Megan Albertus, 34, even goes NUDE as she picks up her shoes and dress following an all night shagging session.

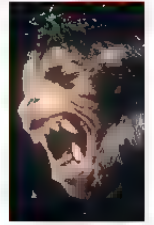

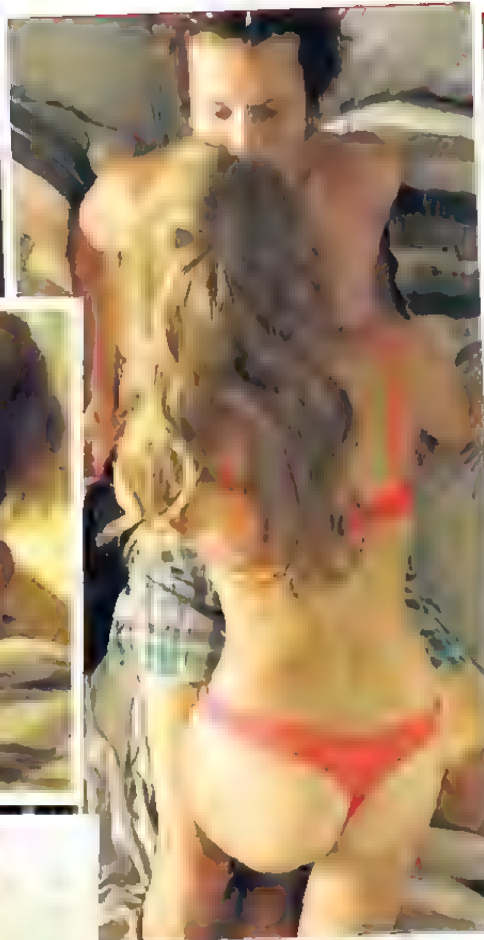

One top film critic and Cannes Film Festival devotee described the film as a "masterpiece" adding "The cinematography is superb and the script intriguing

"Plus you get to see a minge at one point Lovely"

It's out in UK cinemas later this summer

Werewolf guru Rick quits flicks

THE special effects guru who made American Werewolf in London so terrifying has sensationally quit the industry, labelling Hollywood too 'CHEAP'.

Movie legend Rick Baker won the Best Makeup Oscar for 1981's Werewolf (taboo) and also created the monsters in flicks like The Howling, Grmlns and Men In Black 3.

But Rick, 64, slammed: "The time is right. I'm 64 years old and the business is crazy right now. I like to do things right, and they wanted cheap and fast."

"That is not what I wanted to do, so I just decided it's basically time to get out."

Speaking about his work on recent Angelina Jolie movie and 4.1 feet Mahfiet he added: "I could have gone it in a garage basically."

"I would consider maybe designing and consulting on something, but I don't think I'll have a huge working studio any more."

I can't imagine anything hotter than stripping off for a full-on orgy

SLIPPERY Tiffany Fox has confessed her burning ambition to join a kinky high class ORGY!

The gorgeous brunette boasts breathtaking all-natural 34D boobs and possesses a raging libido

And the 23-year-old will surely have queues forming around the block when she does take the plunge and visits a society swinging bash

The model and actress revealed: "I'm very adventurous and open-minded when it comes to sex, and even though I'm only 23 there's not an awful lot that I haven't tried."

"I've had a few lesbian experiences and I even had a threesome once"

"But one thing I've never tried is a full-on orgy"

"And I can't imagine anything hotter!"

Silk

"I wouldn't go to just any old swinging party though."

"It would have to be one of the really upmarket ones, where everyone is strictly vetted and stunningly beautiful."

"And I'd love it to be in a lavish villa, with hot-tubs and wet-rooms everywhere."

The beauty, from Rochester, New York, USA, pictures an enormous bed covered with silk sheets, and a mass of naked bodies.

She purred: "I would probably be nervous at first so I'd loiter in the corner of the room and just watch what was going on

"Then, when I was ready, I'd strip naked and just slowly slip between all the naked people"

"I'd probably start off by kissing another woman, touching her boobs and letting her touch me"

"Then I'd drag a few guys into the equation and just really go for it"

"I'd quite like other people to be watching me, too"

"I get the voyeuristic thing, and I'm turned on by the idea of other folks getting off on what they're witnessing"

"Once I've had the taste of an orgy, I'm sure I'll keep going back for more"

VANESSA WALKER

BLACKPOOL babe Vanessa Walker, 25, is the seaside resort's top attraction, says retired bookmaker David Elvin

The 68 year old from Accrington Lancs, is a massive fan of Vanessa's 32E boobs

He said: "I've been to Blackpool a few times, and it's OK

"You can visit the Pleasure Beach and the piers, but the only thing I really think about when I hear the name is Vanessa Walker

"I'd love her to ride my Big One!"

CHERYL MORGAN

MIDDLESBROUGH transport planner Will Sampson, 40, can't stop ogling Cheryl Morgan's ample 34DD pair.

And he says that going without a glimpse of the 23-year-old for too long gives him the shakes!

Will said: "Cheryl's a true Smoggy, like me. She has a lovely figure and sultry eyes.

"I love her topless photos. I feel like I'm going through withdrawal symptoms if I don't get a good look at 'em!

"Go on - put her in and keep me happy!"

Carrie Rooney says...

A FEW years ago I had an affair with a colleague at the restaurant I was working at. I didn't plan to cheat on my fiancé at the time, but I'd settled for him and just wasn't happy. So it kind of... well, it just happened. Because we both had crappy jobs, there wasn't much travelling involved unfortunately! But we often talked about running away to London together. I'd always wanted to live there and felt stuck with my ex-boyfriend. But after my relationship ended, me and this guy lost touch. I still think about him every so often.

DO you enjoy a bit on the side? Well, listen up...

A new survey has revealed that the most popular destination for couples having affairs is MANCHESTER. Unfaithful partners tend to prefer the north west city over more "upmarket" locations such as London and Cambridge.

Other top destinations for affairs include Oxford, Bristol and Birmingham, according to married dating site Ashley Madison.

The poll found that the Scottish Highlands were the most popular country-side retreat for cheaters.

Nightlife

The Lake District and the Kent coast also ranked high among the website's UK registered users.

Noel Biderman founder of Ashley Madison said: "Manchester is a city renowned for its cultural diversity and nightlife."

"Cheaters are usually looking to have fun with their affair partner—away from the monogamy and stresses of their marriage."

"So Manchester is really the perfect destination for those looking for a bit of excitement."

We asked Midsweek Sport guru Carrie Rooney, Alice Spencer and Emily Addison where they would most like to travel with their secret lovers.

Emily Addison says...

BACK in university I had an affair with a married bloke. He used to take me to lots of different places.

It was really exciting because most of the guys I knew were broke students who couldn't afford to travel!

His wife was a lawyer and lived away from home during the week, which gave us plenty of time to enjoy each other's company.

I remember we had an amazing trip to Cambridge. He showed me round his old university and we went rowing on the river.

It was a great couple of days. Having an affair can feel so romantic, especially if your other relationship is boring.

OUR SPORTS BETTING GURU WILL PUT YOU ON A WINNER!

DANGER MAN:
Chuba Akpom

Youths to win it 2-0

LIFE is all about the children don'tcha know.

So we must pay attention when England under 20s take on Mexico under-20s tonight. I mean it's on the telly and we are a bit short of betting opportunities this even'ng.

I confess I lost us one. There were these two moths crawling up my shower wall this morning. Probably came out of my wallet. Good race it was and all. 5/6 each of the overgrown caterpillars switched round and looked at me funny so I twatted him with my egg cup and a two-moth race became a walk over. Or fly over. Or flut tor-over. Whatever.

Annarrggghh. What we gonna bet on today?

We'll have a look at the England kids. The game is staged at Barnet FC, ah romance, and it is on BT Sport 1. Reminds me, must pay the phone bill.

Joking aside there are some good players on view. Arsenal's Chuba Akpom came off the bench to spare England's blushes in a 3-3 draw with Morocco on Saturday after Dominic Iorfa was dismissed for a second yellow.

ENGLAND U20 v MEXICO U20: WED 6PM, BT1

A 2-0 win for the Three Lions youngsters pays 9/1 and that will do for us.

Racing wiv they go at one of Britain's most picturesque tracks tonight at Ripon in Yorkshire.

You can't move for flower beds. The sport is always competitive and the southern yards are not shy at sending some of their better horses for a day out.

With that in mind, the eyes are drawn to the grade three handicap Directors' Cup (8.10).

The Malton mafia are out in force, with the brilliant Tim

Easterby saddling a pair of likely lads, starting with Fast Shot.

He was a course and distance winner this time last year under today's talented girl jockey Rachel Richardson.

She can claim a handy 7lb off his back. Now, given he is off the same official rating as when he won at this time of year in 2014, it is possible to argue he is half a stone well-in.

Then there is Easterby's See The Sun. The four-year-old was backed like defeat was out of the question at York last month.

He was seventh but if you calculate the hits and pieces of distance he was beaten no more than three lengths.

Regular stable jockey David

Allan rides and it could be pay back time. David O'Meara, Richard Fabry and Brian Elieon bring a strong hand to the card table but the one who like travels from the south coast.

Step forward CHILWORTH ICON trained by Mick Chan non (pictured) and ridden by young Charlie Bishop.

Admittedly, on the form figures in the paper he isn't worth a second glance.

But old windsail Mick does not put them on the road for a breath of fresh air and this critter is 3lb lower in the official ratings than when he last won at Sandown in August.

From that, the second has been placed twice. The third has won and been placed four times. The fourth won at the end of last month. Need I go on?

Chilworth Icon is a winner waiting to happen and probably a decent price to boot.

STARS ON RIGHT TRACK TO CONQUER PIRATES

WHAT else to bet on today?

Well, there is Major League Soccer in America but you try to expect the Yanks to wrap their heads around the beautiful game and you may as well try to herd cats.

Or nell biancango to that calling.

Over there.

Pick of the live sport in betting on Sky involves speedway, for it's k's sake.

Half a dozen leather-clad midgets per side putting their lives on the line (I once knew the chairman of Worthington Comets you know) and apparently they don't go especially fast. It just sounds like it.

And it is dull as dishwater.

But tonight on Sky Sports 1, Poole

Some
speedway
yesterday

Pirates host Kings Lynn Stars. Yeah, yawn.

Except the betting is a tad interesting. According to people who know about this sort of thing (not me, I actually do have a life) they always price the sides closely.

And sure enough, shop around and you will get 5/8 each of two.

You never get draws in speedway.

But, and this is all borrowed knowledge, Kings Lynn have a habit of getting their riders fast off the block.

Given that there is always the chance of carnage in behind the leader, they make bags of appeal at the 11/8 Titanbet are willing to offer.

SET Kings Lynn (11/8).

Mutley to do something!

THE Derby is in full swing and that means the majority of the top greyhounds are engaged at Wimbledon.

Check out my Twitter account @MickLivesey for a video preview of every second-round heat for those of you not on Twitter don't panic buy the Weekend Sport for all the Derby tips for Friday and Saturday.

Winners away from the Derby are not easy to come across but I'm not one to shirk a challenge and our best bet for a winner Midweek comes at Hove on Thursday.

My Real Mutley crashed out of the Derby in round one but he made quite an impression finishing third behind the talented Clares Wonder. He was only beaten 3L and ended up clocking a pretty decent time of 28.69.

There are greyhounds still in the Derby who clocked significantly slower and if he runs to that level here then he will take some beating.

The only slight worry in he's not been at Hove for a while but his previous form is top drawer. If he can adjust back to these boxes quickly then he should run out a comfortable winner.

Loughteen Pedro goes in a 475m contest in the next race and I'm hoping it is a quick fire double for the white jacket.

At his best he looks a cut above this opposition and he's got some impressive form in the book including a victory against Boom Boom Hero. He should be a decent price taking on Bubbly Ninja who was eliminated from the first-round of the Derby.

Jolly Redeye is taking on several greyhounds knocked out the Derby and it's surprising connections did not chance their arm in the big one themselves.

He's got a smashing draw and his 29.65 victory last time is eye-catching, a repeat will see him win.

GOSDEN'S ACE UP FOR DOWNS

Trainer has the Horn for Derby

THE perfect storm is brewing over the Surrey downs on Saturday.

The archetypal Englishman saddling the winner of our finest Classic The Epsom Derby

Ridden by our finest Englishman Frankie Dettori

Moat point He was born in Milan in 1970, his dad was Italian too — Gianfranco — he might be a Goner (and it is tough to forgive him for this), but British racing owes Lanfranco Dettori a damn sight more than he owes us

Walk down any street in this country and ask any passer by who they know in the sport of kings?

Big Mac or Frankie, that is what you will get

On Saturday, Dettori has been handed the chance to help himself to a Derby winner

Golden Horn is saddled by John Gosden and ridden by Frankie

Gosden popped his Derby cherry just shy of two decades ago by winning the premier Classic with Benny The Dip in 1997

And the millions amongst us who backed the second, Silver Patriarch, will have the latter's jockey Pat Eddery consigned to room 101 for ever more

Gosden recalled the vague instructions he gave to winning jockey Willie Ryan that day

"Just go when you feel like it," the trainer told Ryan, who took him at his word pressing the button on Benny The Dip with half a mile to travel

This would hardly count as orthodox tactics in view of pre-race doubts about whether Benny The Dip's stamina could stretch to a mile and a half but the trainer now hails it as "a race-winning move"

Ryan had pinched a three length break on the field by the two furlong stick but then came what must have been the longest 30 seconds of Gosden's life as his colt got slower and slower while Eddery drove Silver Patriarch closer with each stride

Delighted as he might be with Ryan's ride the trainer had expected to be logging up a different jockey that day, Dettori. At a late stage, the Italian was claimed by Godolphin to ride an outsider who was eventually beaten by 25 lengths

The jockey's services are retained these days by Qatari owners, but they only have so many horses

For the first time in two decades, the 44-year-old Dettori is receiving most of his rides from the 64-year-old Gosden and they seem happy as Fleck and Godber, a pair of old crooks plotting one last job

Dettori might as well have carried a loper's bell with him when

RACING: DERBY PREVIEW

By TREVOR CLEMENTS

he returned to the saddle in 2013 following his split from Godolphin and a six-month drugs ban

Quality rides were scarce

Gosden's reputation is still going to waste

He added, "He had two years where he wasn't, for a jockey of his class or quality, getting the horses to ride. I think he's enjoyed it, coming here in the mornings and riding work, plenty of reassures to get out of bed and get on with the day and there's no doubt he's still at the height of his powers"

"If you've won the Formula One world championship a couple of times, it's not an awful lot of fun running around in Formula Two cars. So if we are fortunate enough to have a few horses who can compete at the top level, then that's going to be very inspiring for him. The enthusiasm is there and he's enjoying it and that's very important for him"

Gosden will also have work at Epsom for his senior ex-stable jockey, William Buick, aboard the 7-1 third favourite, Jack Hobbs. The trainer is lucky to have picked up this horse at a yearling sale for 60,000 guineas

"He's still a big, rangy boy, he's still quite unfurnished and it's all coming soon enough for him, quite frankly," Gosden said

"Whereas the other horse at this stage

he's pretty together and he's a grand sort of horse. He showed it in the Dante. He's near well balanced, he relaxes well so he's more of an Epsom type"

Two clear chances in the Derby make Gosden the envy of his profession, occupying a position normally taken by Aidan O'Brien at this time of year. But, for once O'Brien, triumphant at Epsom for the past three years, has been unable to produce a horse worthy of single figure odds, making this Derby a fine opportunity for British-based trainers who have not had the winner since 2010. Some see this as a low-quality Derby that may take little winning

Despite all the ammo in his personal arsenal, Gosden is not that confident

He added, "I don't see it that way because it is the Derby. You've got to have good luck in running. We won't have a filly who should have won the Oaks by three or four lengths, comfortably without the jockey hardly having to move on, and what happened?"

"Well she was all but on the ground. She nearly went down in a pretty unpleasant situation. So I go there with my eyes wide open"

ON THE FAV. Dettori

Zawraq Epsom setback

EPSOM DERBY: THREE DAYS TO GO

LEADING Derby fancy Zawraq is a major doubt for Saturday's big race.

He had a setback after his final work-retesting and connections fear that Dermot Weld's star won't make it to Epsom.

He was a general second favourite for the race before the news.

Racing manager Angus Gold said, "He had been out to work this morning with Pat Smullen on and everybody was very happy when he came back."

"He was in the yard and he was fine, he had a pick of grass and walked back into his box sound."

"He was later taken out for a trot and when they pulled him up they found he was very slightly lame on his near fore."

"He has been taken for an x-ray and scanned and we can't see anything. They say there is a slight cut which means hopefully he has just given it a knock."

"It was his last bit of work and he is very fit. The timing is not ideal and the next 36 hours especially will tell us if it is a goer."

Meanwhile, Frankie Dettori may have the plum ride on favourite Golden Horn (see story, left) but he's worried about another Irish rider.

Glory

The Italian has his eye on Glenageary who has already won two Classics for Aidan O'Brien.

He took the 2,000 Guineas at Epsom and followed up in the Irish version at The Curragh.

O'Brien has won the past three Derbies so knows exactly what you need for glory at Epsom.

If he can stay the longer Derby distance he'll be a major threat to Frankie.

He said, "Golden Horn is favourite, we know what he's made of."

"The same question keeps coming up. Will he stay?"

"My gut feeling says yes, so it's fingers crossed now as his preparation has gone well."

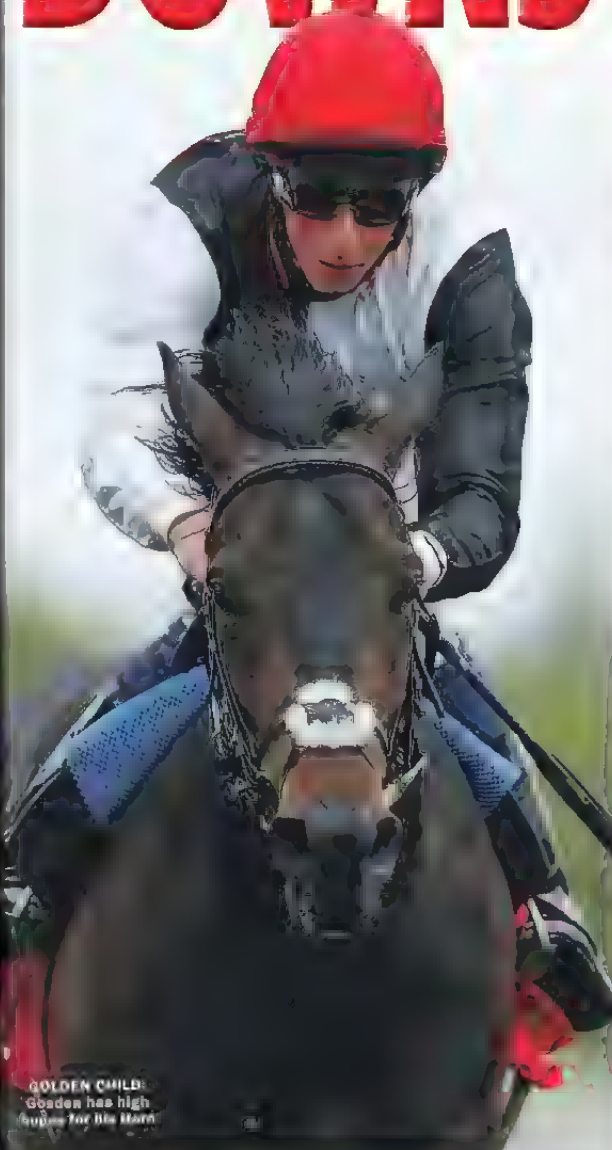

"I'm scared of Jack Hobbs, the horse has improved since the Dante and he stays well."

"The Derby is the Derby but my horse won the best trial and won it convincingly. I have faith in the horse."

"There's 15 left in so let's hope we get a smooth run and see if we can win it."

HOPE: Gosden

GOLDEN CHILD: Gosden has high hopes for his Horn

CHARLIE MCCANN

WITH HIS SPORTING ODDS AND ENDS

WE'RE ready to take on Rory McIlroy in the US Open.

The world world number one was complaining of fatigue before the PGA at Wentworth two weeks ago, having won twice in the States but having missed the cut at both the European Tour's flagship event and the Irish Open at Royal County Down last week we at BetVictor don't fancy his chances for the second Major of the year later in the month.

We will hear an awful lot more about the make-up of the course in the run-up to the tournament and the initial feedback has been mixed with the never understated Ian Poulter tweeting "The reports back are it's a complete farce. I guess someone has to win."

Ahead of the tournament last week Rory described the Irish Open as his fifth Major and having pledged that any prize money won from a tournament he hosted would go to charity, he would have been embarrassed and disappointed not to have made a penny for children's charities supported by his foundation. We have pushed McIlroy out to 6/1 at BetVictor for the Major with Masters champ Jordan Spieth as Dustin Johnson 16s and 20s bar.

6/1 ON OFFER FOR US OPEN GLORY

Tiger Woods tees up at the Memorial this week and is 33/1 to gain a sixth win in the event. Sputh is 7/1 favourite but the 20/1 about Justin Rose and 22/1 about Players Champion Ricky Fowler look too big and get the vote.

★ We are down to the last eight of the Men's Singles in Paris with Novak Djokovic 8/11 favourite to win a first title in Roland Garros, the world number one has lost in the Final to Rafa Nadal twice in the last three years (2012 14) but is 4/11 to knock the Spaniard out this afternoon.

Nadal is looking for a tenth win on the French clay and is 9/4 to beat Nole and 4/1 to win a staggering 10th title in 11 years.

★ Madrid Masters champ Andy Murray is 8/15 at BetVictor to beat David Ferrer (8/15) and is 9/1 to lift the Trophy on Sunday. Is he beats Ferrer he will play the winner of Nadal and Djokovic in Friday's semi final.

★ There is a valuable handicap at Nottingham and Big Baz (3.50) can go on for William Muir the selection has been on the go for some time and was below his best last time but the recent rain will help take the sting out of the ground and he has a better draw than Homage who represents William Haggas whose string are in top form.

Homage was a big flop at York on his reappearance but was considered the stables

Hunt Cup horse at the start of the campaign. Don't give up on him just yet.

★ Slaven Bilic has been as short as 1/10 to be the next West Ham manager but he is out to 10/11 with Marcelo Bielsa 6s and Dick's lad Unai Emery 8/1. Emery who has won back-to-back Europa Leagues with Sevilla is also in the frame for the soon to be vacant Napoli post.

★ It is a big week for Liverpool managers past and present with owners FSG reported to be sitting down with Brendan Rodgers and wanting to know the answers to a number of key questions including whose idea was it to sign Mario Balotelli and how can we possibly offend him without losing too much cash and face.

9,000 FOR COOK...BUT LIONS LOSE

CRICKET: England v New Zealand

SKIPPER Alastair Cook became the first England batsman to pass 9,000 runs — but his side crashed to defeat at Headingley.

It was a fantastic milestone for the opener who has become the fastest player in Test history from any nation to reach the milestones. He battled the New Zealand bowlers to score 56 before he was trapped leg before by spinner Kane Williamson.

It was close and the Essex man had it reviewed but the ball was just clipping the stumps and it went to umpire's call — which was out.

That broke the back of England's resistance and it didn't take the Black Caps long to get the job done.

Joel Butler was the only other home player to give the visitors anything to worry about.

The wicket-keeper played his natural game and came back from being rapped on the fingers early on to score a battling 73.

Trapped

But the Lancashire man ran out of partners and New Zealand levelled the series 1-1 in between ten and the close of play.

England's started the day knowing — despite Joe Root shouting his mouth off about winning — that a draw was the best they could hope for and that meant batting out the whole day on a turning pitch with plenty of cloud around.

The real damage was done in the middle order where Gary Ballance was trapped LBW by Boult for six.

Then Ian Bell came and went for just one and Joe Root was the victim of a superb close-in catch by Tom Latham.

The home boy was unlucky as the fielder wasn't even looking at the ball but caught it with a little help from his woolly jumper. Ben Stokes made a swift 29 but Moeen Ali didn't hang about long for his two.

Stuart Broad betted better than in recent games for 23 before he became another of Williamson's victims.

Wood went for 17 and Anderson made it past his 1,000 runs in Test cricket before the final wicket of Butler fell to give New Zealand victory by 199 runs.

IN TOON Vieira

Vieira not talk of the Toon

NEWCASTLE United will not turn to Patrick Vieira in their hunt for their new manager.

News that the club was in talks with Vieira went down very well on Tyneside so it's yet another blow to the Toon Army that the former Arsenal man won't be coming in.

And it's another knock to the black and white faithful that owner Mike Ashley is thought to be very keen on bringing Steve McClaren in.

That's despite him making a right ball of getting Derby back into the Premier League this season.

The Rams were sitting pretty for automatic promotion at Christmas and managed to blow even a play-off place by losing their final league match.

That was enough for the infamous 'wally with the broly' to be shown the door at Pride Park.

But for some reason, it hasn't put Ashley off the former England boss.

And the Toon Army are standing by for the biggest blow of all as John Carver is still thought to be in the running for the job.

Relegation

That would go down like a cup of cold sick with the Gallowgate faithful who sat and watched the interim boss lead his side to just three wins in 20 outings.

That form took them from a comfortable midtable spot when Alan Pardew left for Crystal Palace at Christmas to being one more defeat away from relegation on the final day.

Newcastle fans will be dismayed that Carver is still in the running for the number one job rather than returning to the coaching role that seems much more suited to his

It is thought that the club will hold crunch talks with him before the end of the week to decide what his future holds at St James' Park.

As for Vieira, he's done an excellent job in looking after the youth sides at Manchester City, where he has been since joining them in his last days as a player.

He's even been linked with the hottest at the Etihad so he would have been a major coup for Newcastle.

But the Toon bosses obviously want someone with more experience than the 35-year-old.

They may regret that decision if the fans revolt should McClaren or Carver take the job in Vieira's place.

PRAYING FOR A MOVE: Romelu Lukaku wants to escape Everton

Luk-ing to move

ROMELU SAYS HE WANTS TROPHY WINS

By ANDY MILLOM

ROMELU Lukaku has dropped his biggest hint yet that he's had enough of Everton.

The big striker has only been a permanent Toffee for one season but says he wants to play with the big boys.

The 22-year-old managed to keep up his goalscoring form once his loan move from Chelsea was upgraded to a £25million transfer.

That was a fortune for Everton to pay and he was able to bang in 20 goals even though the Blues largely struggled last season.

And the Belgian says it's no fun playing in the "shadow" of bigger sides and, being on Merseyside, that won't go down well if he means Liverpool.

Lukaku's form in Europe, where he was the top scorer in the Europa League, will have put some of those big clubs on alert.

And he is making noises that would encourage them to make a move.

He said: "I want to win titles not just be shadowing at the top."

"I want to know how it feels to play in the big games. I'm 22. It's time to win trophies."

Lukaku has a similar strike rate to fellow Belgian Christian Benteke with his 36 goals in 73 outings for the Toffees.

But he was often asked to play out wide last season by boss Roberto Martinez much to his upset.

He's not been shy in moaning about being away from his favoured position in the past and now is no exception.

He added: "I am a striker. At one point I went to the coach and I said to him: 'With all due respect, as winger I'm hopeless. I will only score goals if you put me up front.'"

"That was true. The games that I did not score I was on the flank. I played in the middle then I scored."

"The coach is the boss but when I notice that something is not right then I say so simply."

And in a final note of defiance, he might have scared his exit from the club, at least if Martinez wants to put his foot down.

Lukaku said: "I won't play on the wing anymore."

"I've told the manager too. I'm useless as a winger. I will only score goals as a striker."

One man who could be on his way to Goodison is Tom Cleverley.

The Manchester United midfielder was on loan at Aston Villa last season and while he didn't set the world on fire, he did improve on the form he was showing at Old Trafford.

The Toffees are thought to have all but secured his signing and are keen on the deal, as Cleverley is out of contract and would be one of the better free transfers as he's only 25 years old.

That would make up for Everton missing out on Crystal Palace defender Scott Dann.

The Scouser was a major target for Martinez who is looking to replace Sylvain Distin — but Palace are determined to keep their centre back.

XAVI UP FOR HAPPY ENDING

XAVI is dreaming of a dream end to his Barcelona career against Juventus on Saturday night.

The 35-year-old bows out from Barca to head for Qatar but is as keen as ever to add another cup to his already 24 titles.

He said: "It's my last final with Barca and I want to win it, to be able to lift that title and enjoy it with all the Barcelona fans."

"This has been a spectacular end to my Barca career and I will try to help the team as much as I can if I play the final."

It won't be easy against the Italians who have already won the domestic league and cup double. And Xavi knows it's wrong for most people to assume Barca only have to turn up to take old Big Ears home.

CHAMPIONS LEAGUE FINAL THREE DAYS TO GO!

An added factor is Juve's win over Real Madrid in the semi, ruining the dream final between the Spanish giants.

Xavi says that should be all the warning the Catalans need about how good their opponents are.

He added: "Our season has been very good and could be excellent, but it's also the same for Juventus."

"I think the two teams both arrive at the same level and that's why we're both only one game from the treble."

"It's a final and although some see us as favourites, we know that it will be very tough."

"They can play football and are capable of keeping the ball, but they also know how to keep things very tight."

Xavi has called for his former team-mate Luis Enrique to stay at the Nou Camp next season.

If Barca win on Saturday, the manager will have matched Pep Guardiola's feat of winning the treble.

But, despite that, there is talk at the club that a new boss might be in place for the start of next season as Enrique isn't enjoying the spotlight of being in charge of Barca.

That is something Xavi doesn't want to see — even though he won't be at the club.

He said: "I don't know what he will do, but hopefully he will continue because we've won with him and his plans."

"He's been a very good leader for the team and I think that we've worked and trained very well."

"Hopefully he stays for the good of Barca."

"I think he's in the best place that he could be."

CHASE: Milner

Arsenal join race to sign Milner

LIVERPOOL are locked in a head-to-head dogfight with Arsenal over the services of Manchester City midfielder James Milner.

The Anfield mob hold pole position given they have been poised to stage talks with Milner for some weeks now.

But the Arse are sick of their pretty boy image and want to and some steel to their backbone.

Milner may not be the swiftest but he is not shy of putting a shoe in.

Anfield made the first move for the out-of-contract international and are confident of reaching an agreement with the 29-year-old.

If the deal goes through, Milner, who moved to City from Aston Villa in 2010, would join the Reds on 1 July.

He moved to Villa for a season prior to a move to City that was thought to be worth £25m.

Milner has won the Premier League title twice and the FA Cup once in five years in Manchester.

Regular

Milner began his career with hometown club Leeds before spending four years at Newcastle United.

He made his England debut against Holland in August 2009 and remains a regular in Roy Hodgson's squad.

He has 53 caps and one goal, scoring against Moldova in 2012.

Meanwhile, Liverpool gaffer Brendan Rodgers' future as manager will become clearer this week when he meets co-owner Tom Werner.

The American was expected in the city yesterday and was due to meet the Reds boss as part of his end-of-season review.

Rodgers is sure to Kop a bucketload but, by the standards of other clubs he has not had a fortune to spend.

Sources close to Werner and fellow owner John W. Henry have played down suggestions the Northern Irishman's job is under immediate threat.

Liverpool finished sixth and missed out on a place in the Champions League with the ultimate humiliation of a 6-1 defeat at Stoke on the final day.

For even the most faithful of fans that simply is not good enough.

Rodgers is nothing if not honourable but that may not save his job, although he's been helped by Jurgen Klopp changing his mind, again, saying he doesn't want a Kop move.

LATEST ON THE PREMIER LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

NO-GO DIEGO

HE STAYS: Costa will be at Chelsea next year, says Jose

Jose puts end to Costa move talk

By MIKE MURRAY

JOSE Mourinho says talk of Diego Costa leaving the champions is total cobblers.

Reports have linked the striker with a move back to his native Spain, saying he's not happy with life in London.

He is said to be willing to take a big wage cut to rejoin former club Atletico Madrid.

But Mourinho says there is no sign of Costa moping about — and he played a full part in the Blues' 1-0 win over Sydney FC on their Australian tour yesterday.

The Portuguese said: "He's the guy responsible for everything good we have in the dressing room."

"He's so happy, so funny. He enjoys every minute and is the happiest guy in the dressing room. If this is unhappiness I'm happy with that."

He was not happy with the news, Costa was given a huge welcome by the crowd as Chelsea always had control against the Aussie side.

And to underline the popularity of the English game down under, an amazing attendance of more than 83,000 turned up to watch at the ANZ Stadium.

Loic Remy got the goal that separated the sides but Costa didn't seem to be anything but happy out on the pitch.

Mourinho added: "Diego tried, but we didn't want to take any risks."

"I told him to give the fans at least half an hour and he played until the 40th minute. We felt that was enough."

Chelsea weren't messing about and fielded a strong team including

John Terry and player of the year Eden Hazard.

But one man who didn't do his chances of a long career much good was Ruben Loftus-Cheek (pictured).

Mourinho was far from happy with the 19-year-old midfielder's workrate and was scathing about the Englishman after the match.

"The boss didn't mince his words and even accused the youngster of not putting a full shift in."

He said: "Ruben said he had a pain in his back, but what I was feeling was that he only had the pain when Sydney had the ball."

"When Chelsea had the ball he was playing very well, but when Sydney had the ball I think he was more impressed by watching Nemanja Matic and John Obi Mikel work, instead of him working."

"So, with Ruben, it's one step back in terms of my relationship with him. If he doesn't know what it is to play for me and Chelsea, it's one step back."

"He has to learn that at 19 you have to run three times more than the others, you have to play to your limits and not play like a superstar with the ball at your feet because this is not Under-18s."

"The Under-18 competition is too easy for him."

"He's too good to play in the Under-18s."

"But I don't accept that when he's playing in midfield with Mikel and Matic, when we don't have the ball he doesn't press, doesn't have intensity and he's waiting for everybody else to recover the ball."

"I don't accept that in the superstars so how can I accept that in a kid? He has to learn what it takes to play for us."

Quinn sees Light over Sam

SUNDERLAND legend Niall Quinn has added his voice to calls for Sam Allardyce to be their new boss.

The Black Cats are reluctantly finding a replacement for Dick Advocaat who retired after keeping the club in the Premier League.

Burnley's Sean Dyche is thought to be in pole position for the job but Quinn wants the club to speak to Allardyce, despite him being a former Newcastle boss.

There are some nice candidates. Big Sam wandering around the place, maybe he is at the top of people's list.

"Looking at the betting lists, it's quite intriguing."

"They need someone who can get them away from that fear that runs through the football club when they start off badly in the football season, as has happened in a good few seasons."

"I certainly would check out if Big Sam was interested."

BRUYNE TROUSER TIME FOR CITY

By PETE BAILEY

WOLFSBURG have told Manchester City to forget about buying Kevin de Bruyne.

The Belgian has been a key man for the German side as they enjoyed their best season for years, ending with a Cup win at the weekend.

He's banged in 10 goals from midfield as his team pushed Bayern Munich closest for the Bundesliga title.

They finished second which puts them in the Champions League and that's why they are confident of keeping hold of their star performer.

Chief Francisco Javier

Garcia Sanz — not the most German name you'll ever hear — has issued a firm hands off warning on the 23-year-old.

He's keen on having a proper go at Europe's main club competition next season it seems.

He said: "We want to confirm our success this season in the future and, for that, we are keeping this team together."

De Bruyne is seen by City as just the man they need in the middle of the park. There were question marks over Sami Nasri's stomach for the fight this season, while David Silva wasn't at his best by a long chalk.

That sort of behind the striker position is where the man who didn't make the grade at Chelsea does his best work.

And he also seems happy to stick with the Germans.

He added: "Maybe I'm playing the best football of my career right now."

"I had some good years in Belgium and with Bremen, but now I'm playing at a top club in one of the best leagues in the world and it all has an even greater meaning."

UNITED MAN:
Benteke

CHRISTIAN HELL BENT ON UNITED

CHRISTIAN Benteke will choose Manchester United over Liverpool as his destination for next season.

The Aston Villa striker has let it be known he craves Champions League football above all else.

And yesterday he let slip: "I want to play in the Champions League. Every footballer does."

Benteke is on international duty with home country Belgium.

And he was pretty cold about his club Villa. Asked if he had any home thoughts from abroad, he said: "I have thought nothing about Aston Villa."

"My job this week is concentrating all my efforts on Belgium and that is what I will do."

Benteke knows he had an up-and-down season at Villa Park as he struggled for much of it along with his team-mates.

Better

He added: "I knew it wasn't going to be easy. I had some hard times with my injury but I knew my time would come and I would work hard for it."

"I think I can be better in every situation — my left foot, right foot, heading. I'm still young and I'm motivated about working hard and being better than before."

Villa boss Tim Sherwood is prepared to offer Benteke a club record-breaking £15m a year pay deal to stay.

But it is unlikely to be enough.

Sherwood said: "He needs to sign a new contract. We need to offer him a new contract, which the club are prepared to do, and he needs to sign it."

By MIKE MURRAY

When he does we know he's not going anywhere.

"I will have a chat with him. I have told him already that I want him to stay at the club."

"I'm not sure what his plans are, he didn't tell me either way. We just tried to get the FA Cup final out the way."

Liverpool are preparing a bid for Benteke but are believed to be baulking at the £32.5m buyout clause.

And Sherwood insists Villa will not accept less.

Benteke signed his current £50,000 per week contract two years ago after handing in a transfer request in a bid to force a move to Tottenham Hotspur.

His friendship with Manchester United midfielder Marouane Fellaini edges him closer to Old Trafford.

The pair were pictured laughing arm in arm in training at the international camp this week.

Despite playing in, with all due respects, a mediocre side, Benteke has scored 49 goals in all competitions in just 94 games for Villa — an incredible return.

DODGIEST GOALIE, SHAKIEST DEFENCE,

MEET THE PREMIER SHIT XI

Our verdict on the men who stank this season

By JOHN ANTHONY

WHO cares who won the PFA player of the year? It's the Midweek Sport stinker of the year that really matters!

Anyone can spot that Eden Hazard is a decent attacker but digging through the stats to find the worst of the Premier League takes time and real effort.

That's why we've had our team of boffins from the University of Skelmersdale burning the midnight oil to uncover the 11 WORST players in the top division last season.

And some of the names are a little surprising — but not the man in charge of this collection of pisspoo performers.

That could only be one man — a manager who was bad enough to take charge of any Premier Shit XI since the dawn of time.

Step forward JOHN CARVER.

The Newcastle interim boss celebrated keeping the Toon up as if he'd just pulled off one of the greatest escapes of all time.

But the truth is he took over a side that had a chance of getting into the Europa League and steered them to the verge of relegation.

His record of three wins in 20 games would make the worst manager blush and he's the only man qualified to coach this team.

Brendan Rodgers almost got the nod — but there's only one John Carver, as Toon fans don't sing.

So who's in goal? It's a bit of a surprise but WOJIECH SZCZESNY can light another fag to celebrate because he's our keeper.

The Pole played 17 times for Arsenal last season and kept just TWO clean sheets.

That's the lowest ratio of any goalie to have played more than 10 matches and he's our number one.

For the back four, take a bow JONAS OLSSON who made an average of just 0.5 tackles per game for West Brom last season.

He's joined by DEJAN LOVREN who cost Liverpool a massive £20m and lost his place to ageing Kolo Toure — much to the relief of Reds fans.

On to the full-backs and it has to be PAUL KONCHESKY on the left.

Leicester might have kept their Premier League place but it was little thanks to him. He blocked one shot every five games so there was plenty of work for Kasper Schmeichel in the Foxes net.

On the right, it's veteran WES BROWN who struggled as Sunderland plummeted

SOFTEST MIDFIELD AND SHYEST ATTACK...WHAT A SIDE

RIVIERE*ARFIELD*BROWN*SZCZESNY*SOLDADO*HENRY*LOVREN (CPT)*OLSSON*LAMELA*WESTWOOD*KONCHESKY*CARVER

down the table. He managed just one winning tackle per game on average and banged in an own goal to boot. Well done West!

Every team needs a midfield general and ours is KARL HENRY.

What a season Karl has had. He played 33 games, scored no goals, had no assists, got no man of the match awards and played a key pass once every three games. Take a bow son.

Next to him we need someone who can feed ammo to the attackers — or not as the case is with this side.

That's a job for Burnley's SCOTT ARFIELD who played 36 games in an advanced midfield position without pulling off a single assist — that's the kind of form this team is crying out for. Eat your heart out Cesc Fàbregas.

So alongside our velvet passers in the centre of the park we need someone with a bit of steel — a player not afraid to put his foot in. Or in reality a player who never puts his foot in.

There's only one man for the job of enforcer — the beast that is ASHLEY WESTWOOD of Aston Villa.

He took to the field 25 times this season in the anchor role in front of the back four.

How many tackles per game did the modern Terry Hurlock manage? ONE is the answer. Our opposition in the Chumpions League next season will be doubling up on the shipads when they see Westwood on the team sheet.

On to the attack and with such an array of quality behind them we need a frontline that will strike fear into any defence.

The easiest choice of the whole team was ROBERTO SOLDADO to lead our line.

He's been in amazing form for Tottenham this season. He was on the pitch for 1,265 minutes this season in the league and Europe — and banged in an impressive TWO goals.

Only one man comes close to that prowess up front and he's EMMANUEL RIVIERE of Newcastle United. Our boss

John Carver kept faith with the Frenchman, playing him for 1,216 minutes of Premier League action this season.

His return more than repaid that trust with a fantastic ONE goal — and even then the Toon still lost the match. To be fair, he had one assist too.

It takes a massive figure to play alongside players of the calibre of Soldado and Riviere. It's also handy if he can play a little wider to give some much needed width to the attack.

Send for ERIK LAMELA. He made 33 appearances on the left side of the Spurs attack and banged in an unstoppable two goals. Throw in the £25.7m transfer fee and you've got a special talent there.

CITY STRIKER IN SHOCK TRANSFER LINK

AGUERGO!

Sergio the Real deal for Madrid

By JOHN ANTHONY

SERGIO AGUERO is the man Real Madrid want to wrestle the title back from deadly rivals Barcelona.

Manchester City's red-hot striker has been identified as the Galactico the Spanish giants are putting their faith in.

They have made Aguero their number one target for the transfer window as they try to calm supporter unrest.

The faithful are not overjoyed by the sight of new manager Rafael Benitez and will be sicker still if Barcelona win another Champions League title at the weekend.

So president Florentino Perez is willing to spend the vast majority of his budget on the hitman, who turned 27 yesterday.

Figures of £65million and more have been bandied about for a player who was a big success at Atletico Madrid and has made no secret of his desire to move to their more illustrious neighbours.

The sticking point now will be the Blues' desire to keep hold of their main striker as they battle to win their title back.

But Aguero still owns a house near to Real's training ground and he told Spanish media when City played at the Bernabeu two seasons ago that he was sorry he couldn't move to the club, saying he had "no choice but to go to Manchester".

He may not have to be there for much longer if Real get their way.
